

CRUISE COMPASS

Jewel of the Seas

DAY 5 Wednesday, March 18, 2015
Fort De France Martinique

FORT-DE-FRANCE, MARTINIQUE

The capital of this French-influenced Caribbean island is at once a modern city and a throwback to colonial times. Downtown is bustling with cars and people, but the air is also filled with the scent of spices and the sound of Caribbean music. The homes reflect the city's heritage: Colonial and Creole style houses framed by balconies and flowers.

La Savanne, the grand park nestled in the heart of town, provides a lively oasis amid the everyday hustle, with street vendors, musicians and any number of locals willing to chat about their city. It's not hard to find points of historical interest here, starting at the Belain D'Esnambuc Statue, honoring Pierre Belain d'Esnambuc, who planted the French flag on Martinique back in 1635.

DIG INTO MARTINIQUE'S MANY DELIGHTS

- Remember your highschool French ?, well this is the perfect opportunity to practice it. A simple "Bonjour", will make the locals smile.
- Trigger the senses. Out in the wild, you'll encounter all sorts of unusual sights, sounds and smells. Take a time out to really appreciate your surroundings.
